CLIVE TYLER

Pastel Landscapes, Five Stages of Painting
May 18 - 22

Clive Tyler's "The Creative Process, The Five Stages of Pastel Landscapes" workshop will start from the beginning of ideas and concepts to design and solid composition, working with color theory and under-painting, using color as a way to make your paintings sing and to explore values and techniques. Three days of painting in the studio at Saks Galleries, one day at the Denver Art Museum and one day of painting at the Denver Botanical Gardens. Admission fees to these events are inclusive.

Workshops are designed for and limited to 15 experienced students. Saks Galleries Annex is an expansive, full-light environment in Denver's Cherry Creek North District, an exclusive shopping area with restaurants, hotels and boutique shops.

Clive's five-day master pastel workshop will include a light breakfast, gourmet lunch and a closing reception for artists and instructor. Materials and supply lists are provided on the website. Registration fee is $1000.
